Pro-Family PAC-Endorsed Candidates Win Across the State

Madison—Wisconsin Family Action PAC (WFA PAC) is very pleased that nearly 60% of its endorsed challengers and candidates running for open-seats won last night.

WFA PAC director Julaine Appling issued the following statement:

“Our goal from the beginning has been to hold elected officials accountable, particularly through challenging incumbents and vying for open seats. These victories, and other conservative victories across the state, bode well for marriage, family, life and liberty in Wisconsin.

We know that Wisconsin is only as strong as her families. We are counting on the new majorities in the state legislature and the governor’s office to repeal disastrous legislation from this last session and pass legislation that will encourage job growth, restore and preserve individual liberties and protect innocent life and the family unit.

“The people of Wisconsin sent a clear message to their newly elected leaders last night—reduce government, rein in spending, value life and family and preserve and protect our liberties. From the conception of our PAC’s work, we’ve been very clear about our mission: to change the face of the state government to one that was pro-family. Last night, we as a state made great strides towards that goal.

“From Governor-Elect Scott Walker and Lt. Governor-Elect Rebecca Kleefisch, through the State Senate and State Assembly candidates, we are proud of our endorsed candidates and excited about what they will do in this next legislative session. Some of the challengers were victorious over very entrenched liberal incumbents.

“These candidates received the WFA PAC endorsement because they showed themselves to be people of integrity who shared the values of WFA PAC. We congratulate them and looking forward to working with them on policies that strengthen families over the next two years.”
